

FLYING A PLANE REQUIRES CLEAR THINKING

So does using discernment to make smart, safe choices.

WIZARD WISDOM – Kids need adult guidance to understand what discernment means and why it matters. One way to explain it is by comparing it to the careful thinking required by an airline pilot. Pilots must understand every control on the instrument panel so they can notice important signals, avoid mistakes, and stay on course. Discernment works the same way in the mind: it helps kids slow down, pay attention, and choose the option that keeps everyone safe, respected, and supported. Adults can show kids pictures of a cockpit and explain how pilots use knowledge and attention to make good decisions – just like kids use discernment to understand their feelings, check their thinking, and stay on the right path.
